

Bio

KT Tatara's comedy is sometimes brutally honest but always funny. His logic-based opinions provide unique insight into timeless topics such as gender roles and race. KT performs across the United States and is one of the most requested comedians on the college circuit.

In 2006, KT was featured as one of the top "New Faces of Comedy" at the Just for Laughs Festival in Montreal, Canada. Since his stellar performance there, KT has been invited back to the festival several times. At the 2008 Just For Laughs Festival in Toronto, he starred in the stand-up comedy special "The Colour Of Funny," broadcast in Canada on the CBC network.

As a comedian, KT has made television appearances on Comedy Central's "Live at Gotham," Showtime's "Live Nude Comedy," MTV's "MVP's" and the nationally syndicated show, "Comics Unleashed." As an actor, KT has had recurring roles on ABC Family's "Greek" and Showtime's "Californication."
