

Escape Rooms

The reclusive billionaire Oliver Bancroft has long been a connoisseur and collector. He was also a notorious prankster. Prior to his recent death, he was in the process of establishing a museum of his collections ranging from historical artifacts to works of art. An inspector now says the museum is a fake. The inspector believes the "artifacts" are cheap replicas. In his will, Oliver revealed that the museum is really like a gift for his grandchildren. Hidden inside each exhibit piece is a rare and incredibly valuable coin. Solve the puzzles and riddles, win the prize. As Oliver didn't think highly of his grandchildren, he added a twist. To make it a little more "fun" he has prepared a solution wash which will devalue the rare coins if the exhibit is destroyed, smashed or broken. The only way to receive the prize is to solve the puzzle in the way Oliver intended. Oliver's grandchildren have hired your team to look at these museum exhibits. Can you solve the puzzles and win the prize? The grandchildren of Oliver Bancroft have offered you a sizable reward for each coin you can secure.

6 Challenging Rooms

Egyptian Room: Find a coin hidden deep within the treasures of Egypt to complete the room.

Incan Calendar: The Pre-Columbian people of Mesoamerica kept track of time with calendars which had ritual and religious meaning. Mr. Brancoft replicated many of their 16 th century artifacts to make finding the rare coin in this room a challenge.

Medieval Room: A dark candlelit room full of books and poems that must be deciphered and sorted to unlock the museum pedestal that contains the rare coin.

Greek Room: An extremely challenging room combining ancient Greek artifacts along with modern technology for an Augmented Reality experience.

Asian Room: Working in Mr. Brancoft's office where his personal and business papers are stored, teams must determine how to open the crate containing the fake treasure and valuable coin.

Modern Art: Teams enter a room filled with modern art and artist information and work through clues to open the three locks hiding the rare coin
